Reference photos	Notes	Color	Why?
	Coat. Leather. Extra protection at the shoulders. Length should be slightly below his knees. Less details.	Light brown.	Cowboy rides a lot, no matter what weather. Makes him look like a cowboy. Covers the nice cloths under it. Light color because he is a good guy.
	Cowboy boots. Not so fancy spurs as the picture.	Dark brown/black.	The boots with spurs are almost a symbol of a cowboy.

REFERENCE SHEET

Pants. Gonna drop the things hanging from bottom of the pants.

Same as west. Dark grey/black.

Well, let's face it, a cowboy without pants? Don't think so.

Shirt. Gonna drop all of the white details there. Like the pockets, but aint gonna show.

Plain white. Nothing fancy.
Dark buttons.

Will get a nice contrast between the dark west.

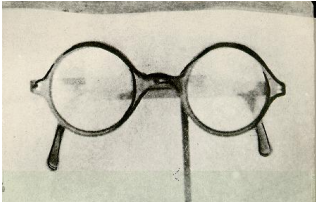

Hat. Gonna drop the fancy band around the hat, and make a more simplified version. More like the old days.

Brownish.

Makes him look as a real cowboy. Cover his face so he won't be recognized.
